

Self analysis for Redeker tutorials

Is your argument well structured? Why or why not?

Is your argument linear?

Does your argument flow from one point to the next in a logical manner?

Does your argument suffer from “non sequiters”?

Are you satisfied with the strength of your argument? Why or why not?

Have you used explicit or implicit language?

Have you used persuader words, “poisoned the well” or used rash generalizations?

Have you argued using “truth by adage” or “truth by authority”?

Have you argued against points using straw man arguments, the “bad company fallacy” or “companions in guilt”?

Have you provided counterexamples or proven disanalogies for arguments you disagree with?

Are you guilty of falling into the “democratic fallacy”?