

Transition to University

Samantha Vogt
Rebecca Kitchen
Ellen Taylor

Learning to learn in a different way at University

- Big lab and lecture groups
- Small seminars are useful
- Less help and guidance on coursework
- Motivate yourself for independent study
- Seeking your own help

Preparation for A-level students looking to go to University

- Prior in-depth knowledge about the degree
- School awareness about particular degrees
- Compulsory subjects
- Encouraging independent studying at A-level
- Improving writing skills

The differences between A-level and University coursework

- Style of coursework
- Lack of essays
- Introduction of referencing
- Broader learning
- More support and guidance for A-level students

Transition to University

Samantha Vogt (State School)
Rebecca Kitchen (International School)
Ellen Taylor (Private School)

Three different backgrounds. However, we all share the same views.